- A. Pull out enough of the screen (Fig. 3C) to clear the moldings.
- B. Press in both tabs (Fig.3D) then slide the moldings out.

Adjusting Material/Spring Tension

After the corner moldings have been reattached, the roller shade will need to be re-tensioned for proper operation of the screen.

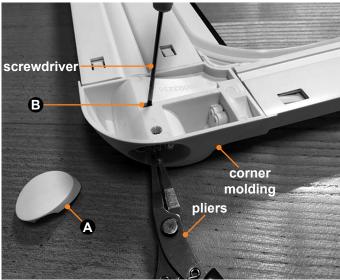

- 1. Remove the screw cover (Fig.6A) by inserting a small flat head screwdriver into the slot at the top of the cover and popping it off. The screw cover is held in place with magnets.
- 2. Insert a flat head screwdriver into the end of the tensioner (Fig.6B). Unclip the tensioner by releasing the snap-fit via the hole located on the underside of the blind.

NOTE: Use care as the tensioner is spring-loaded. If the blind is already fitted, use a pair of pliers to pry the tensioner out.

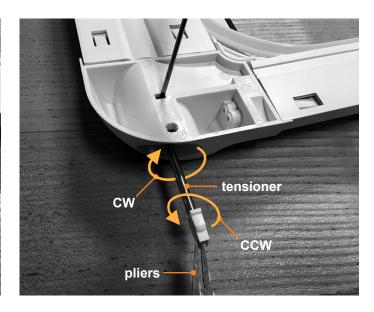

3. Using a pair of small pliers, grip and unclip the spring tensioner. A flathead screwdriver may be used to assist with unclipping. See figure 6.

NOTE: Use care when unclipping the spring tensioner. The spring tensioner is spring-loaded and will be energized.

- 4. While keeping a hold on the pliers, allow the tensioner to retract from the corner molding.
- 5. Turn the tensioner clockwise (CW) to decrease tension and counterclockwise (CCW) to increase tension (Fig.6).
- 6. Push the tensioner back into the corner molding to secure it.
- 7. Test the tension of the surface roller shade by pulling material out about 100 mm (4"). Material should smoothly return into the cassette without snapping back.
- 8. If necessary, repeat steps 2-7 until the material smoothly returns into the cassette without snapping back.
- 9. Reinstall previously removed (step 1) screw cover.
